

Tennessee Honors Program
2006-2007
Instructions and Procedures
For Faculty Advisors

The Tennessee Honors Program is a unique opportunity for outstanding juniors not only to receive recognition for their academic and extra-curricular achievements, but, to demonstrate through independent research their ability to synthesize their knowledge of the various disciplines by applying it to the resolution of a specific problem. The student is challenged to research a given issue, develop a hypothesis supported by evidence and draw a conclusion.

All applications meeting the requirements will be reviewed by the State content consultants and a selection of the top ten will be chosen. If applications are limited, the consultant will determine a representative number based on the quality of the applications. A committee of content specialists in all subject areas will be convened to determine the final selection of thirty winners (five per content area). The thirty winners and their parents/guardians will be invited to a reception hosted by the Commissioner of Education. Each winner will receive a certificate of recognition by the Governor and an Apple Ipod.
